2007 Edition

North Carolina ECHO, Exploring Cultural Heritage Online, is an evolving statewide, collaborative access to special collections and digitization project. Funded through a Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) Grant and managed by the State Library of North Carolina, this innovative project was one of the first in the nation to build a statewide framework for digitization and address a full-range of digitization needs of the state's cultural collecting agencies (libraries, archives, and museums).
